RE: Brian Miller Magic

To whom it may concern,

We hired Brian Miller to perform for our 50th anniversary celebration/Agent Forum and he definitely did not disappoint. He worked the crowd well and put the years of experience he has to excellent use.

Brian performed his strolling magic show and impressed many not only with his abilities and tricks, but also his confidence and professionalism. We had over 300 people at our event and he managed to reach out to just about everyone over the course of the event.

Brian's professionalism and reliability made the planning and coordinating process go very smoothly. He is very knowledgeable with his skills and is an excellent communicator. He had no issue meeting and talking with others at the event while wowing them with his special brand of magic, mind games and humor.

We would not hesitate to hire him again. He is all around professional, skilled, and well versed in entertaining a crowd. As a result of this, he can bring your next social, corporate, or private event to the next level.

Sincerely,
